And even you, Nagato, I was just jealous like an idiot.

That girl in the photo...

...It really hurts.

And yet I kept acting like I knew him. How embarrassing.

That's why I never get sent to battle anymore...

I explode, I'm an emotional roller-coaster...

Ahh, I'm really an idiot, a total idiot....

If you're worried about anything, then just tell it to him!

SHOCK

I was only recently built in Kure, but I already understand him.

...You really don't get the admiral, huh.

This kindness is unfair.

When I fail, why don't you punish me?

Even if Admiral is surprisingly shy ...

Why do you always pull your hat down, and never look me in the eyes?

...Why won't you ever speak directly to me?

Even if Nagato said he doesn't want me to get hurt...

Why haven't you been bringing me to battle lately?

But I've also always felt uneasy about it.

...I always felt like I understood what the admiral was thinking.

But...

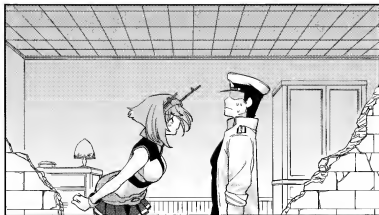

And it's possible the truth won't be so kind, right?

Because it's possible I was just misunderstanding.

End

Hi, I'm Teurasaki Yuu.
I drew this doujinshi so that
Mucchan could get her happy ending.
I finished with the greatest excitement.
Happy endings really are the best.

I don't get a lot of chances,
so I tried to draw a situation that would be impossible to portray in standard format.
I ended up using 4 spreads.
How did everyone feel about it?
Did you feel like it was prettier?
It definitely wasn't so I could increase the page count!
Definitely not!

Anyway, that's that.
Because of my experimentation and the contents, I was very excited from start to finish while drawing this story.
It'd make me happy if everyone who sees this likes Mucchan a little more.
